Notes

Joseph Green: Was born in Mass. in 1790. Have not identified his parents yet.
In 1814 he married Rebecca A. Cottle, that same year they traveled to Ohio, probably along the National Rd. (40 now) as they settled in Cincinnati.
Working there for several years at the carpenter trade. He then purchased land in the western part of Hamilton Co. Oh. He then moved his family here where they stayed until 1824, then moved to Warren Co., Oh. remaining until 1832.
At this time they came north into Shelby Co., Dinsmore twp. (not sure what twp).
was at that time but is now Dinsmore).
The first election in the twp. was held in his home, spring of 1833. < Shelby Co. Oh.
At the time Mr. Green first came to Shelby Co. his family consisted of his wife and six children. This portion of the county was entirely unimproved and their cows had to run in the woods for pasture. It was not long before they discovered that milk sickness was in the area. Their cattle and hogs died from the effects of it. Several persons died of the same, among them were Joseph's wife Rebecca and two of their daughters. Discouraged and filled with despair Joseph took his, now smaller, family and returned to Hamilton Co, where they remained until his death in 1834.
Much of the above is listed in: History of Shelby Co., Ohio in 1862 and also in Hamilton Co. History.
Joseph was buried at the old Deerfield Cemetery (was in Hamilton Co.) now at South Lebanon (Warren Co.) in the new cemetery. They just moved the stones from the old cemetery and stacked them at the bottom of the hill in the newer cem. We have been there and were appalled at what they had done. It is impossible to read the stones as they are all bunched together.
some information on the Green clan came from:
Bernadine Green (Mrs Frank) Edgington, 104 State Route 235, St. Paris, Ohio 43072.
To this date I have not been able to confirm the parentage of Joseph but will continue to gather info. 30 June, 1998 / Lucy Keller Green, 4320 Trier Rd.,

James bought the land which shows on the map as belonging to Charles Lafferty (next to the large section owned by William Turner) - original warrant and patent were to William Williams.

HODGE CEMETERY

Located in Bloomfield Township, Logan County, Ohio, on the West side of Township Road 23, .5 mile North of Township Road 58. (Note: " indicates names are on the same stone. Many of these stones are broken and piled against trees or other tombstones. We have noted the ones propped against trees. If it just says broken it is probably propped against another stone. The map indicates 17 rows going from East to West. We could not identify that many rows. We started on the West side and ended up with 12 rows going from West to East. Many of the rows were very crooked.) Copied October 7, 1996 by Edith and Fred Eads, 1541 Township Road 55, Bellefontaine, OH 43311.

Barnabas VALENTINE

Notes

Barnabas Valentine.

The following biography is from a letter written by a great grand daughter of Barnabas, Nancy (Valentine) Brown in her letter of 20 Feb 1918 to her neice Margaret (Valentine) Fisher who was Ruth Janice Barton's grandmother. This biography is the most historical statement of Barnabas' antecedents we are likely to have, though it does appear to have been somewhat restated by R.J.B.

"Great-great-great Grandfather, Barnabas Valentine was born May 11, 1757, in Ireland. His Irish Protestant parents were weavers and bleachers of linen and were owners of a bleaching green. The lived in the Province of Ulster along the Irish Coast of the North Channel.

One day in the year 1771, a ship anchored in the harbor. Most of the crew were sick or had died, so some of those remaining went ashore to try to find replacements. They could get no men but picked up two boys, one twelve and the other, fourteen years of age. The fourteen year old boy was Barnabas Valentine. The boys were coaxed to go aboard to see the ship. They went, but soon discovered they were prisoners. The ship sailed for the United States. The twelve year old boy died at sea, but Barnabas escaped from the ship at Baltimore, Maryland, and stayed hidden until it left.

He enlisted May 10, 1777, during the Revolutionary War and served in Captain Robert Sample's Company, 10th Pennsylvania Regiment, Continental Line, commanded by Colonel Richard Humpton, under General Anthony Wayne. He wintered at Valley Forge, 1778-1779, according to records there. Barnabas stated he was transferred to Lamb's Artillery just before the Battle of Monmouth (1778). Lamb's Artillery originally from New York was organized in 1777 as Lamb's Continental Artillery Regiment.

Barnabas Valentine married Hannah ^{JANE} ~~UNK~~ in 1783. She was English. She was born in 1764 and died in 1836. They owned and lived on a farm near Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on which the Bryn Mawr College for Girls is now located. This farm, once known as the Taylor farm, was the boyhood home of their son James Fuhrman Valentine who migrated to Athens County, Ohio. His sister Eleanor acquired possession of the farm.

Barnabas died July 14, 1831."

Barnabas was married to Jane/Hannah Unknown in 1783. This fact is apparently based on the birthdate of his first child. See Lola Avellar's story /Barnabas, rev'd 29 Dec 86. Jane or Hannah was born in 1764, and died in 1836. In her letter of 1 Jan 96, Ruth Janice Barton states, " In a letter written by Barnabas, Sr's granddaughter, Nancy Brown (James Fuhrman's daughter, dated 20 Feb 1918, she states her grandmother's name was Hannah." Could it have been Hannah Jane ? In a deed executed in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania on the 15th of March 1819, her name is Jane. RJB queries, Could Barnabas have married twice ?

Barnabas first appears in the Tax Records of Mifflin County in 1807. He is in Greenwood Township, and the owner of one cow. The records are missing for 1808 and through 1810.

In 1811, Barnabas is in Fermanagh Township, and listed as a shoemaker.

He was not found in these records for 1812.

In 1813 he is listed as having one cow and a trade; still in Fermanagh.

In 1814, 1815, and 1816, he is still in Fermanagh, owns 26 acres and has a trade.

In 1817, still in Fermanagh, Barnabas has 27 acres, two cows, and is a weaver.

In 1818 and 1819, still in Fermanagh, Barnabas is shown as owning 27 acres, and is a weaver.

See Ltrs., Mifflin County Historical Society, dtd 31 May 1995 and 20 March 1996.

RJB suggests in her letter of 16 July 1997 that the teen-ager in Barnabas' household in the 1830 Census might have been Barnabas, Jr. This would be entirely possible; I had previously suggested it might be Archibald Nelson Valentine.

Year: 1820

There is one lead that has not been pursued. The 1850 Census indicates Sarah Jane(Valentine) Nielly was born in New Jersey. See correspondence with Carol E. Mahan. This would indicate that Barnabas, who was discharged at Princeton, New Jersey in 1783, married there and at least his first eight children were born there. The ninth child, James Fuhrman claimed to have been born in Pittston, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania. The tenth child, Barnabas, Junior was born in Pennsylvania as Barnabas, Senior is shown on the Tax Rolls of Mifflin County in 1807. It is thus indicated that we check out New Jersey.

Ita should be noted that New Jersey did not award Revolutionary War Bounty Lands(The Source,257). In 1776 Congress promised bounty land to soldiers of the Continental Line-100 acres to a private. Barnabas would have been eligible as his service was with the 10th Pennsylvania of the Continental Line and later with the 2nd Continental Artillery. However this bounty land was available only in the U.S. Military District of Ohio and this area was not opened until 1796. An act in 1788 made warrants assignable-meaning the soldier could sell his warrant. It has been reported fewer than fewer than one in ten took the land.(The Source, 258).

At the moment, it would seem Barnabas received no benefits from his military service until he reached Mifflin County, Pennsylvania-possibly as late as 1807. His depreciation pay was escheated to the state in 1787-indicating he was not aware of it. In 1816 he was awarded a Pennsylvania annuity of $40. In 1818 he got his federal pension of $96. In 1830 his son James F. petitioned Congress for his land bounty. I have not yet determined if James F. ever received it.

There is one land that has not been pursued. The 1830

Census indicates Sarah Jane (Mehar) Kelly was born in New Jersey. See correspondence with Carol E. Mehner. This would indicate that James was discharged at Princeton, New Jersey in 1783, married there and at least his first eight children were born there. The ninth child, James F. Harshbarger, claimed to have been born in Pittston, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania. The tenth child, Harshbarger, Junior was born in Pennsylvania as Harshbarger, Senior is shown on the Tax Rolls of Milford County in 1807. It is thus indicated that we checked New Jersey.

It should be noted that New Jersey did not award Revolutionary War Bounty Land. The Source 237. In 1778 Congress granted bounty land to soldiers of the Continental Line 100 acres to a private. Harshbarger would have been eligible as his service was with the 10th Pennsylvania of the Continental Line and later with the 2nd Continental Artillery. However, this bounty land was available only in the U. S. Military District of Ohio and this area was not opened until 1796. An act in 1788 made warrants assignable meaning the soldier could sell his warrant. It has been reported that fewer than 1000 warrants were issued. The Source 238.

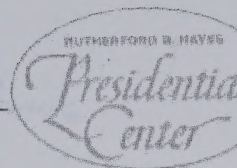

At the moment, it would seem Harshbarger received no benefits from his military service until he reached Milford County, Pennsylvania possibly as late as 1807. His depreciation pay was cashed in the state in 1787 indicating he was not aware of it. In 1810 he was awarded a Pennsylvania annuity of $40. In 1818 he got his federal pension of $20. In 1830 his son James F. petitioned Congress for his land bounty. I have not yet determined if James F. ever received it.

He was enlisted in the 10th Pennsylvania Regiment in May of 1777. He served until 1783, married and had a family of ten children: Catherine, Eleanor, Mary, John, William, Robert, Jane, Nancy, James Fuhrman, and Barnabas, Jr. He first appears in the 1810 Census for Mifflin County, Pennsylvania. He received a pension in 1818, sold out and moved his family to Fairfield County. He is in the 1820 and 1830 Census. Related families include Keith, Neely, Herron, Friend, Wisher, and Work.

ABOUT

THE VENETIAN
 through DECEMBER

Census: 1830 Hopewell Twp, Perry Co, Ohio

Note:

The following biography is from a letter written by a great grand daughter of Barnabas, Nancy (Valentine) Brown in her letter of 20 Feb 1918 to her Neice Margaret (Valentine)Fisher who was Ruth Janice Barton's grandmother. This biography is the most historical statement of Barnabas' antecedents we are likely to have, though it does appear to have been somewhat restated by R.J.B. "Great-great-great Grandfather, Barnabas Valentine was born May 11, 1757, in Ireland. His Irish Protestant parents were weavers and bleachers of linen and were owners of a bleaching green. The lived in the Province of Ulster along the Irish Coast of the North Channel. One day in the year 1771, a ship anchored in the harbor. Most of the crew were sick or had died, so some of those remaining went ashore to try to find replacements. They could get no men but picked up two boys, one twelve and the other, fourteen years of age. The fourteen year old boy was Barnabas Valentine. The boys were coaxed to go aboard to see the ship. They went, but soon discovered they were prisoners. The ship sailed for the United States. The twelve year old boy died at sea, but Barnabas escaped from the ship at Baltimore, Maryland, and stayed hidden until it left.

He enlisted May 10, 1777, during the Revolutionary War and served in Captain Robert Sample's Company, 10th Pennsylvania Regiment, Continental Line, commanded by Colonel Richard Humpton, under General Anthony Wayne. He wintered at Valley Forge, 1778-1779, according to records there. Barnabas stated he was transferred to Lamb's Artillery just before the Battle of Monmouth (1778). Lamb's Artillery originally from New York was organized in 1777 as Lamb's Continental Artillery Regiment.

Barnabas Valentine married Hannah _____, in 1783. She was English. She was born in 1764 and died in 1836. They owned and lived on a farm near Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on which the Bryn Mawr College for Girls is now located. This farm, once known as the Taylor Farm, was the boyhood home of their son James Fuhrman Valentine, who migrated to Athens County, Ohio. His sister Eleanor acquired possession of the farm. Barnabas died July 14, 1831. Barnabas was married to Jane or Hannah Unknown in 1783. This fact is apparently based on the birth date of his first child. See Lola Avellar's story of Barnabas, received 29 Dec 86. Jane or Hannah was born in 1764, and died in 1836. In her letter of 1 Jan 96, Ruth Janice Barton states, " In a letter written by Barnabas, Sr's granddaughter, Nancy Brown, James Fuhrman's daughter, dated 20 Feb 1918, she states her grandmother's name was Hannah." Could it have been Hannah Jane? In a deed executed in Mifflin County, Pennsylvania on the 15th of March 1819, her name is Jane. RJB queries, Could Barnabas have married twice? Could her maiden name have been Nelson? RJB raises the questions, "Could Barnabas have married twice? What is the source of this date of 1836?" I had this date before Jeanne Westenberg repeated it in a telephone conversation, 27 Oct 96. See Carol M. Bollinger, her letter dated 7/24/1996.

Barnabas first appears in the Tax Records of Mifflin County in 1807. He is in Greenwood Township, and the owner of one cow. The records are missing for 1808 and through 1810. In 1811, Barnabas is in Fermanagh Township, and listed as a shoemaker. He was not found in these records for 1812. In 1813 he is listed as having one cow and a trade; still in Fermanagh. In 1814, 1815, and 1816, he is still in Fermanagh, owns 26 acres and has a trade. In 1817, still in Fermanagh, Barnabas has 27 acres, two cows, and is a weaver. In 1818 and 1819, still in Fermanagh, Barnabas is shown as owning 27 acres, and is a weaver. See Letters., Mifflin County Historical Society, dated 31 May 1995 and 20 March 1996. RJB suggests in her letter of 16 July 1997 that the teenager in Barnabas' household in the 1830 Census might have been Barnabas, Jr. This would be entirely possible; I had previously suggested it might be Archibald Nelson Valentine. Broderbund Family Archive #314, Ed. 1, Census Index: U.S. Selected Counties, 1820, Date of Import: Sep 3, 1999, Internal Ref. #1.314.1.6177.62] Individual: Valentine, Barnabas County/State: Fairfield Co., OH Location: Rush Twp Page #: 107 Year: 1820 There is one lead that has not been pursued. The 1850 Census indicates Sarah Jane (Valentine) Nielly was born in New Jersey. See correspondence with Carol E. Mahan. This would indicate that Barnabas, who was discharged at Princeton, New Jersey in 1783, married there and at least his first eight children were born there. The ninth child, James Fuhrman claimed to have been born in Pittston, Luzerne County, Pennsylvania. The tenth child, Barnabas, Junior was born in Pennsylvania as Barnabas, Senior is shown on the Tax Rolls of Mifflin County in 1807. It is thus indicated that we checkout New Jersey. It should be noted that New Jersey did not award Revolutionary War Bounty Lands (The Source, 257). In 1776 Congress promised bounty land to soldiers of the Continental Line-100 acres to a private. Barnabas would have been eligible as his service was with the 10th Pennsylvania of the Continental Line and later with the 2nd Continental Artillery. However this bounty land was available only in the U.S. Military District of Ohio and this area was not opened until 1796. An act in 1788 made warrants assignable, meaning the soldier could sell his warrant. It has been reported fewer than one in ten took the land. (The Source, 258). At the moment, it would seem Barnabas received no benefits from his military service until he reached Mifflin County, Pennsylvania, possibly as late as 1807. His depreciation pay was escheated to the state in 1787, indicating he was not aware of it. In 1816 he was awarded a Pennsylvania annuity of $40. In 1818 he got his federal pension of $96. In 1830 his son James F. petitioned Congress for his land bounty. I have not yet determined if James F. ever received it.

Comments:

Barnabas enlisted in the 10th Pennsylvania Regiment in 1777. In 1778, just before the Battle of Monmouth he was transferred to Lamb's Continental Artillery which became the 2nd Continental Artillery Regiment in 1779. Barnabas was discharged at Princeton in 1783, and I believe he remained in New Jersey and reared his family there.

Note: Jane or Hannah Unknown. See Lola's story of Barnabas, rec'd 12/29/86. She got this story from someone else -it does mention that Barnabas joined the army at age 18, four years after his arrival in America. His marriage occurred 9 years after he joined the army.

and bought land in WASHINGTON Township. Here he was in the ground, put up some poles, and covered it with a tent. This was in July. In August, Joseph Fergus, the sketcher, was born in this cloth tent. He lived at home with his father in 1837, not having the advantage of a school. In 1839 he went to learn the carpenter trade, at an apprenticeship of three years. During this apprenticeship he had five months' schooling, all he ever got in his life. In 1841 he married Mary Ullery. By this marriage they raised a family, viz., Caroline E., Richard H., Sarah C., John S., Wm. Joseph L., Winfield S., Charles E., Wealthy E., and Laura. He continued at his trade until 1855, when he bought a farm and moved to Shelby Township, where he now lives.

ALEXANDER SNODGRASS.

Alexander Snodgrass, the father of Alexander, was born in Montgomery County, Ohio, in 1804. He lived there to marry Margaret Holmes. In 1820 they removed to Shelby County in Ohio. At that time consisted of three children, Alexander, James, and James. Alexander was born in Montgomery County, Ohio, in 1820. He lived in Clinton Township, where he made his home. In 1860 he married Clemena Boyer, a daughter of John Boyer, who settled on the place where Mr. Snodgrass now lives. They have raised a family of five children, viz., Thompson L., Mary E., Ledora, and Sevela B.

WILLIAM B. LEFFERSON.

William B. Lefferson, one of five children of Garret Lefferson, who was born in New Jersey about 1795, and came to Ohio in the early part of the nineteenth century, and located in Hamilton County. Here in 1820 he married Sarah Barkalow, and remained in Hamilton County until 1838. His widow lived to the age of seventy-seven years. He died in Butler County, Ohio, in 1875. William Lefferson, whom we write, was born in Hamilton County in 1823, at the age of five years at the death of his father. He then went to live with his father Barkalow, with whom he remained until he was twenty years of age. In 1848 he came to Shelby County, and was married by his mother given to her by her father, William Barkalow. Shortly after coming to the county he formed the partnership with J. Reynolds, to whom he was married in 1850. They had five children, as follows: David F., born 1852; James B., born 1857; Chas. G., born 1858; and Edward B., born 1860. Mr. Lefferson is now located on the old homestead of his father, near the site of the old red mill, built prior to the war of 1812. His father, J. Reynolds, father of Mrs. Lefferson, was born in Pennsylvania in 1795, and died in 1868. When they first came to Shelby County, he was four years of age. Mr. Reynolds lived in Shelby County until 1868.

JOSEPH GREEN was born in CANADA in 1801, came to Shelby County in 1878, married Margaret B. Hetzler, a daughter of Moses Hetzler, in 1879. They have born to them one child, Charles F. They reside on the home with Mrs. George Hetzler, the grandmother of Mrs. Packman.

WILLIAM GREEN.

The father of the above—Joseph Green—was born in Massachusetts in 1790. In 1814 he married Rebecca A. Cottle, and the same year they moved to Ohio, and settled in Cincinnati, working for several years at the carpenter trade. Afterward he bought land in the western part of Hamilton County, on to which he moved and remained until 1824, when they removed to Warren County, Ohio, where they remained until 1832, then came to Shelby County, and located in Dinsmore Township, or what is now Dinsmore, as the township was not organized at that time. The first election held in the township was held at his house in the spring of 1833. At the time Mr. Green first came to the county, his family consisted of his wife and six children. That portion of the county was entirely unimproved; their cows had to run in the woods for pasture. It was not long before they discovered that the milk sickness was in the neighborhood. Their cattle and hogs died from the effects of it. Several persons also died of the same, among them were Mrs. Green and two of their daughters. Mr. Green became discouraged, and determined to leave the country. So he returned with the balance of his family to Hamilton County in 1833, where he died in 1834.

WILLIAM GREEN, a son of the above, was born in Hamilton County, Ohio, in 1820, consequently was twelve years of age at the time of their settlement in Shelby County. He returned with his father to Hamilton County, and remained there and in Cincinnati about one year. He then went to Warren County, where he worked by the day and month, getting work as best he could, part of the time getting only four dollars per month. In 1842 he married Miss Phebe Elwell, and immediately returned to Shelby County, where they landed in the fall of 1842, with just one dollar in cash left to commence life with. With this cash capital they made their start, he working by days' work for provision to live on until they could raise some corn and potatoes. From this beginning Mr. Green has made for himself and family a comfortable home. Every dollar of it made by their own hands, except forty acres of wild land. They have raised a family of eleven children, viz., Joseph, Martha, John, William, Charley, Emerson, Albert, George, Dora, Clarence, and Justice. In 1874 Mr. Green sold his farm in Dinsmore, and bought one in Orange, where he now lives rather a retired life, in the enjoyment of the fruit of his past labor. Beside this home farm he owns one of one hundred and sixty acres in Franklin.

Malen Elwell and his wife Martha Bevins, the parents of Mrs. Green, came from Pennsylvania to Highland County, Ohio, in 1825. The Elwells are of German descent; the Bevins of Welsh and Swiss extraction. Mrs. Green was born in Pennsylvania in 1822.

REV. JOHN M. LAYMAN.

The Laymans are of German extraction. The first we learn of them was in Hamilton County, Ohio, in 1795, where George Layman, the father of the subject of this sketch, was born, October, 1795. He was

Dear Othel;

I am sending you all I have on the Green family. I am sure I can find a lot more in the court house in Sidney bu haven't had the time. I go in a couple of times a week to look after my Beauty Shop, but that's all I seem to get done.

Since you correspond with Clarence Green's daughter, would you see if she could give me more information on her parents and her immediate family. I have written to several people but I don't seem to ~~ge~~ hear from them. Do I have it right about Lester dying in his freshman year? What was your grandmothers name. All I can find here is Mary Brady, but I don't think that is right. I think that is another family. If you can tell me anything else about the family since you have seen this, I would sure appreciate it. Now you Know more of what I want for the tree. You didn't tell me your present wife's maiden name. Thanks loads. I had written to your sister also but had not heard from her yet. Thanks again.

Sincerely,

Bernadine

DEATHS

1863 thru 1899

During the 1800's death notices could be found throughout the newspapers. They did not always appear in Obituary form. Many were simply one or two lines in news of a certain locality and some can even be found in the classified section of the newspapers.

Mr. Robert Knief searched the following newspapers published in Sidney, Ohio and hand copied the information.

THE SIDNEY WEEKLY JOURNAL (SJ)
THE SHELBY COUNTY DEMOCRAT (SCD)
THE SIDNEY DAILY NEWS (SDN)

Judy Fogt d/o Robert Knief assembled the information copied by her father and donated it to The Shelby County Genealogical Society.

There is no guarantee that ALL were noticed and copied and appear in this book.

Many of these notices gave very little information. However, an honest attempt has been made by all to include all available vital information, which, includes Name, Date of Death, Age, Date published in Newspaper etc.

CREDIT to Shelby County Genealogy Society Members, Mrs. Erma Couchot and Mrs. Betty Bevans for their special assistance in the preparation of this book.

Every effort has been made to maintain accuracy in copying Mr. Knief's records exactly.
